Krishna Goradia

As a child, the rhythmic "thwack" of the tennis ball against the racquet was the soundtrack of my summers. Today, my passion for the game burns brighter than ever, and I'm thrilled to express my interest in joining The Tennis Club of Albuquerque board.

For four years, I've been a dedicated member, witnessing firsthand the club's vibrant spirit and commitment to fostering a love for tennis. Beyond enjoying the courts, I've honed my leadership skills at work, spearheaded successful fundraising initiatives for the New Mexico Tech Council, and actively volunteered with the Ambassadors (NMTCC).

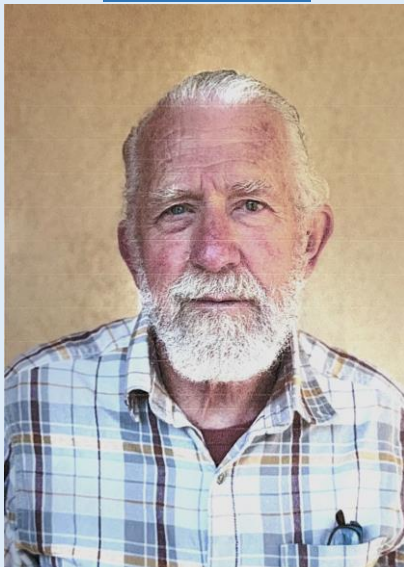

The vision I see for TCA is ambitious: world-class facilities that nurture budding champions, engaging programs that bridge generations, and a welcoming haven for community spirit to flourish. My financial acumen, strategic thinking, and unwavering dedication to inclusivity are assets I'm eager to share in making this vision a reality.

Joining the board wouldn't just be an honor; it would be an opportunity to give back to a community that shaped me. Let's build on TCA's legacy, together.

I have been a TCA member for twenty-five years. I believe my long experience at the club and my business and construction experience would be strong assets on the board.

I worked for thirty-five years in the NM construction industry as a commercial and industrial electrician, and then was the owner and qualifying party of a commercial electrical contractor. I was a principle for ten years in Vawtpower Management, Inc., a startup manufacturing company developing wind turbine technology from Sandia National Laboratories.

I have been in leadership, including responsibilities for financial oversight on the board of directors of four non-profits in the Albuquerque area including the Sandoval Environmental Action Community, the Placitas West Water Coop, the Albuquerque Center for Peace and Justice, and presently 350 New Mexico, a statewide climate advocacy non-profit.

My wife, Mary Wommack and I have lived in the North Campus Neighborhood since 1998. Our kids, Sam and Louisa played tennis, swam, and lifeguarded at the club while growing up. Mary and I captain the TCA corporate league team and play tennis multiple times a week.

TCA came out of the COVID-19 stronger than ever. I'm committed to helping the club build on that success.
